

TATIANA MOREIRA

Being the daughter of parents who have always been in fashion industry in Brazil, Tatiana Moreira had design genes to start with. Tatiana came to US over 20 years ago to study English and pursued her bachelor's degree in Architecture from FIU – Florida International University. Working for world-renowned Arquitectonica & RTKL, which are both top 20 firms in the United States, along with her specializing studies in Firenze, Italy and at Parson's, New York was the fine touch to transform Tatiana into an exceptional designer empowering her necessary skills to successfully launch & expand StyleHaus Design. STYLEHAUS specializes in High-End Residential & Commercial Projects in South Florida, throughout the United States, Brazil & Worldwide. Tatiana is an active member of the IIDA - International Interior Design Association and ASID – American Society of interior designers. Constantly traveling around the globe, attending the major trade fairs, experiencing new cultures, and her passion for life, is what molds Tatiana's forward thinking vision and sense of style. Tatiana says; "Every project is a brand-new beginning with no past but only future. I believe that art, regardless its form, is the most dazzling manifestation of human creativity. They are all bound together – creating a home for someone has all the same principles and process; you create for one's need, use and comfort. For one's life" – "I believe in delivering a Beautiful / Functional / Orderly & Clean Design in all details".
